Kim,

No, I am not going to increase their thresholds at this time, since I have not reviewed the data thoroughly that they provided and have other priorities ahead of them.

Although I did a site visit about a month ago and they provided some data, it doesn't mean that there will be any increases, only that their account would be subject to review. I told them it would not happen for awhile and that they needed to be patient.

I believe that the only one they want raised is their Oxy threshold, since they are currently at 72% midway through the month. They have been very persistent in calling and emailing me and others.

Their thresholds will remain the same for now and I see no adjustments being made until the review process is complete.

Thanks,

Joe Lumpkin

John,

Tim @ Euclid family Pharmacy (667127) is concerned about his Oxycodone threshold. Joe Lumpkin visited his site about a month ago and Tim was expecting an answer if there would be an increase or not! Can you look into this?

Thanks,

Joel
